Title of book:

Author:

Pick two events from the life of one of the characters in the book you read. Write two diary entries from the point of view of the character. (In other words, write in the first person: "I was furious when I wasn't picked to be in the school play. I know for a fact that my audition was superb. I will have to think about what my next move will be….") Think about how the person feels about the events, what s/he learned, and what s/he hopes for the future. Your diary entries should be no longer than the lines below, and you should fill most if not all of the lines.
